Ohio Bread Company Searches For The Ultimate “Family Secret”
Klosterman Baking Company launches original recipe contest

Cincinnati, Ohio, (October 31, 2009) – Klosterman Baking Company, a family-owned bakery headquartered in Cincinnati, Ohio, is launching the first annual “Family Secret Recipe Contest.” Throughout the month of November, consumers across the Midwest are encouraged to submit an original recipe, via Klosterman Baking Company’s Facebook page, using any variety of Klosterman bread for a chance to win free Klosterman bread for a year. Three grand prize winners will be chosen and their original recipes will be featured on Klosterman’s web site, www.KlostermanBakery.com, Facebook fan page and the company’s blog, A Slice of Life.

Klosterman Baking Company’s search for consumers’ original bread-based recipes will allow bread lovers, to get creative in the kitchen. Ten finalists will be chosen from recipes in three categories: Mom’s Legendary Stuffing, Hearty & Light Breakfast Delights and Sandwiches For All Seasons. The finalists will be judged on flavor, appeal and creativity, and the top recipe in each category will be deemed the winners and awarded with four loaves of Klosterman bread sent monthly for a year.

“Bread is at the heart of the family,” said Brandon Hoehn, Director of Marketing – Retail Division, Klosterman Baking Company. “For that reason, we created our first Facebook recipe contest. It’s our way of celebrating the wholesomeness of the family – and the way we make bread a part of our family meals every day.”

To enter the contest, individuals can submit their original recipe to Klosterman Baking Company’s Facebook page at www.Facebook.com/KlostermanBakingCompany.
